Where is the dog kept most of the time? (describe area in house, outside yard, confined room, crate, tie-out)

When we are home, he is with us (me, my spouse, & our 5 dogs). They all just go with us where we go. When we leave for work or at night, we keep him in his crate inside.

How would you describe the dog (check all that apply)

Friendly, Happy Go Lucky, Affectionate, Outgoing, Trainable

Please describe your dog's good habits

Foxtrot is energetic, playful, outgoing, and loves everyone! He is great with kids, other dogs, and cats. Very curious too, and smart! Right now he is at the clumsy puppy phase of being all legs and not finding his feet. LOL. So he is kind of a goober.

In what areas does the dog need improvement? (describe: barks too much? jumps on people? runs away constantly? afraid of loud noises? does not get along with other dogs?)

He jumps up for love, but is learning not to. He has a bit of separation anxiety which is why we keep him in a crate while we are away. But mostly, he is kind of perfect, especially being so young and having gone through so much.

Why do you want to surrender your dog?

This isn't our dog, it was our son's. He went through a terrible break up and is having to move into an apartment that doesn't allow pets. His x-girlfriend threatened to "dump" him so our son drove him from Kentucky to us to keep him safe. We already have 5 small and senior dogs and cannot keep him, but agreed to foster until we find him a forever home.

Please provide a description for your dog that will appear on our Courtesy Listings webpage if your dog is eligible. You can view the current Courtesy Listings to get a better idea of what others are writing in the descriptions for their pets.

Meet Foxtrot! He is an 11 month-old, happy go-lucky, energetic, playful, Border Collie / Husky mix. He is house trained, mostly crate trained (we only crate while at work), and loves to hike. He is great with other dogs, cats, and children - basically, he loves EVERYONE he meets! Right now, he is at that puppy stage where he is all legs and can't find his feet sometimes, making him quite the goober and clown. All in all, he is one fabulous Foxtrot and will be the perfect family dog for the right home. It truly doesn't get better than Foxtrot!
